SYNOPSIS

B”H

Erev Chag HaShavuot, 5688 {1928}

Dnepropetrovsk²

My dear son, Greetings to you.

The holiday {Shavuot} is approaching. May it be His will that we merit what is written {Shemot 19:6} “And you shall be to me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation,” with a most elevated and wondrous level of holiness ... that we should be holy through the body and soul of Torah, which represent the revealed and hidden qualities of Torah, with both our bodies and our souls. And all our deeds and ways should be merely for the sake of heaven, and the holiness should be both by the man and by the woman, which is {what is meant when we state that “on his wedding date” refers to} Matan Torah. ... This is why the binding of a man and woman together is called Kiddushin. So it {i.e., your wedding} should be by you speedily in actuality, with an everlasting Jewish home. ... With the joy and gladness of heart of all those that love you and like you, and among them also ... I, your father, who loves you with all my heart and soul, and desires that you should have true goodness forever.

TRANSLATION AND COMMENTARY

B”H

Erev Chag HaShavuot, 5688 {1928}

Dnepropetrovsk

My dear son, Greetings to you.

The holiday {Shavuot} is approaching. May it be His will that we merit what is written {Shemot 19:6} “And you shall be to me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation,” with a most elevated and wondrous level of holiness³

{Explaining the elevated and wondrous level of holiness}

{This “elevated and wondrous” level of holiness should be} one that is even higher than the holiness of Sefirat Ha’Omer, about which we also ask {in the prayer after reciting the counting of the Omer}: “and may I become purified and sanctified {v’etoher v’eskadeish} with holiness from on high,⁴

³ The letter now explains the depths of this blessing related to an elevated and wondrous level of holiness. What is this level of holiness? Where does it come from? Because it is Shavuot and the time we receive the Ten Commandments (after having counted 49 days of Sefirat Ha’Omer), Rabbi Levi Yitzchak connects this blessing to several things, including: (1) That we should be to G-d a kingdom of priests and a holy nation; (2) That we need to understand what the level of holiness to which he refers really is and where it comes from; (3) Understanding how these questions are connected to the Ten Commandments (which begin with the word Anochi); and (4) How Rabbi Levi Yitzchak then draws this into a personal blessing to his son who is soon to be married.

⁴ Later in the same prayer, we ask that G-d repair our souls from baseness and defects, referring specifically to nefesh, ruach, and neshama. There are five levels of the soul, each reflecting a different and may it purify us and sanctify us {u'letahareinu u'lekadsheinu} with Your supreme holiness. And the holiness of Matan Torah {at the giving of the Torah} which is on the 50th day {after the 49 days of Sefirat Ha'Omer} is even higher {than the prior levels of holiness}. This is because Sefirat Ha'Omer is a fixing/correction of the seven middos {emotive character traits and methods} each one {of the middos} of which consists of seven {middos},⁵ and through this process, level of consciousness. See Bereishit Rabbah 14:9; Devarim Rabbah 2:37. The highest level is yechida, the soul's deepest essence. Then comes chaya, which is also concealed. Next is the neshama (which includes chaya and yechida within it) which is the part of the soul proper that connects one Jew to another. The fourth level is ruach, the spiritual or emotional level of the soul (perhaps it can be thought of as the subconscious part of our soul). Finally, there is nefesh which is what animates and is connected to the body (consciousness). The levels of nefesh, ruach, and neshama are the parts of the soul that exist in our physical bodies. The other two levels are at too high of a level to be constrained by or connected to the physical. In asking for a reparation of the soul from baseness and defects, therefore, the prayer for Sefirat Ha'Omer references the lower three levels of the soul which are the ones that could be impacted by baseness and defects. Therefore, a higher level of holiness as referred to in the beginning of Rabbi Levi Yitzchak's letter is one above these three soul levels referred to in the Sefirat Ha'Omer prayer.

- 5 The seven emotive attributes are Chesed, Gevura, Tiferes, Netzach, Hod, Yesod, and Malchus. In counting Sefirat Ha'Omer, each of the seven attributes is multiplied by seven because each day reflects a combination of these attributes. For example, the first week of Sefirat Ha'Omer is associated with Chesed. Thus, the first day has the quality of Chesed she'b'Chesed; the second day is Gevura she'b'Chesed, and so forth. For further explanation, see Rabbi Simon Jacobson, Forty-Nine Steps to Personal Refinement According to the Jewish Tradition (1996 VHH/Meaningful Life Center).

purification (from Bina) and holiness (from Chochma) from Chochma and Bina are drawn down.⁶

{Drawing on Kabbalah to explain the higher level of holiness}

Now, with Chochma and Bina there are two separate qualities: *Yisrael Saba u'Tevunah*⁷ – lower level of Abba V'Imma {father

- 6 Chochma is a very high level of conceptual intellect. Left on its own, that spark or flash of intellect does not penetrate the world below. The idea of Chochma is drawn down through Bina (understanding). This is why Chochma is associated with holiness; it is a higher level that then is actualized below through purification (Bina). This will be alluded to further in the text below.
- 7 In Kabbalistic terms, and by way of a simplistic overview, sefiros refer to filters through which divine light (or presence) is revealed. The process of divine revelation is one that goes through various “worlds” to descend into our existence. Within each world, there are then multiple levels through which this descent occurs, beginning with “Kesser” (crown) and then through the intellectual faculties and emotional faculties. Each of the levels in turn has two qualities (referred to as partzufim); one quality receives from that which is above (it “looks up”) and a second “looks down” to reveal to the level below. Technically, the lower level can experience both qualities – there is a revelation descending from the sefira that is simply receiving from above and there is a revelation descending from the quality that reveals to that which is below. To understand this letter, the key faculties are three “intellectual” faculties, Kesser (crown), Chochma (the spark of intellect), and Bina (the understanding part of intellect). The two partzufim qualities of Kesser are referred to as Atik (or Atik Yomin) {G-d’s pleasure} which “looks up” and receives from the highest level of G-dliness and Arich Anpin {G-d’s will} (which “looks down” and reveals to that which is below). In turn, Chochma for itself has two of these qualities – Abba “looks up” to receive from Arich Anpin (which is looking down to Abba); and Yisrael Saba “looks down” to reveal to the emotional and mother} and upper level of Abba V'Imma. This is why the language used {in the prayer for Sefirat Ha'Omer as explained above} is repeated – “and may I become purified and sanctified” “and may it purify us and sanctify us”. The act of drawing down {i.e., the drawing down of purification and holiness} from the upper level of Abba V'Imma, which is represented by the yud of G-d's name⁸ is only through the many, a tzibbur/minyan {prayer quorum} that cannot consist of fewer than 10 in number, and therefore the language of u'letahareinu u'lekadsheinu {"and may qualities “below” the intellectual faculties. Finally, Bina also has two qualities – Imma “looks up” to receive and Tevunah “looks down” to the emotional qualities. Collectively, Chochma and Bina represent, respectively, the male and female aspects of the intellectual faculties. Kesser has male and female qualities united within itself; however, Chochma and Bina manifest the male and female qualities separately. Thus, when Rabbi Levi Yitzchak refers to Yisrael Saba u'Tevnuah, he refers to the combination of male (Abba) (Yisrael Saba from Chochma) and female (Imma) (Tevunah from Bina). The “upper level” of these aspects refers to the qualities as reflected in Atik (the upper level of Kesser) and the “lower level” of these aspects refers to the qualities as reflected in Arich Anpin (the lower level of Kesser). This latter point will become more relevant in the comparison below of the acronyms for Anochi used in the Gemara as opposed to those used in the Yalkut.

- 8 This refers to the yud which is the first of the four-letter name of G-d known as the Tetragrammaton (yud and hei and vov and hei). These four letters each refer to the four-stage process of the creation of this world with the first yud drawing down the initial spark of conception from the highest levels. Above the first yud is the top part of the yud (the “dot” or kotz above the yud). See Menachot 29a and Tanya, Iggeret Teshuvah, chapter 8 (explaining the significance of the “kotz” of the yud). Kabbalah teaches that the uppermost part (kotz) of the yud refers to Kesser, the crown and the Divine Will (Ratzon).

it purify us and sanctify us”} is in the plural, unlike the singular form of v’etoher v’eskadeish {"and may I become purified and sanctified"}. Nevertheless, {with regard to} the holiness that was at Matan Torah, {where we became} a “Goy Kadosh” {a Holy Nation}⁹, which is on the 50th day, the 50th gate which is Kesser elyon (the upper Kesser/crown),¹⁰ the drawing down of holiness is from Kesser, as is written about Matan Torah “with a crown that he was crowned by his mother, etc.”¹¹

{Connecting the higher level of holiness to Matan Torah and Anochi}

This is why Matan Torah begins with Anochi {the first word of the Ten Commandments} which alludes to Kesser.¹² But also

- 9 The verse “and you shall be to me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation” (Ex. 19:6), was said on the 2nd day of Sivan. However, it refers to the later time (on the 50th day) at the giving of the Torah so that when G-d gives the Torah to the Jewish people, then they will become to Him a kingdom of priests and a holy nation.
- 10 Kesser refers to a transcendent level of G-dliness/Essence. As the crown, Kesser sits above the 10 sefiros; above sechel (intellect) and the emotive attributes. See also note 10 below.
- 11 Shir Ha’Shirim 3:11. The full phrase in Shir Ha’Shirim is “with a crown that he was crowned by his mother on his wedding date.” The reference in Shir Ha’Shirim to “on his wedding date,” refers to the day of giving of the Torah (see Mishnah Taanis, end of chapter 4).
- 12 Kabbalistic teachings point out a distinction between Ani (אני) and Anochi (אנוכי), the latter representing a deeper level of identity (or perhaps source of identity). See Ohr HaTorah, Yitro, p. 915. This is indicated by the addition of the letter chaf (ח) which represents Kesser, the supernal level of “the Crown.” Rabeinu Bachye on Genesis 20:17; Rabbi Chaim Vital, Shaar HaPesukim, Shemot 29b; Rabbi Chaim of Volozhin, Nefesh HaChaim, 1:18; Likutei Torah of Arizal, Yitro, 62b; Likutei Torah of Alter Rebbe, Shir Ha-Shirim, 35c. This transcendent level of G-dliness includes (a) G-d’s Delight, which is the higher inner level within Kesser, and (b) G-d’s Will, the within this {level} there are many levels, as we see that in the Talmud (Shabbat, chapter Haboneh, 105a), there are three acronyms of Anochi cited in the Talmud, two are “forward” acronyms “Ana Nafshi Kesavis Yehavis” {“I myself wrote [the Torah] and gave it”} and “Amirah Na’ima Kesivah Yehiva” {“A pleasant saying was written and given”} and one is a “backward” acronym “Yehiva Kesivah Ne’emanin Amareha” {“It was given in writing and its statements are true”}.¹³ In the *Yalkut Shimoni*¹⁴ we see a similar construct of three acronyms outer level within Kesser, Kesser serves as the intermediate level and bridge between the infinite Ohr Ein Sof and the spiritual worlds.

- 13 A forward acronym is one where the first letter of each word (aleph, nun, chaf, yud) in the referential phrase spells the acronym (Anochi in this case). A backward acronym is one where the first letter of each word in the referential phrase spells the acronym backwards (as in yud, chaf, nun, aleph). Rabbi Levi Yitzchak elaborates on the issue of using acronyms for this purpose in his longer essay on Parshat Yitro. Likutei Levi Yitzchak, Volume 3 pp. 51-57. Interestingly, the phrases used to form the acronym “Anochi” are not verses or phrases otherwise used anywhere else in Tanach or in other literature; they were constructed specifically to identify and illuminate certain aspects of “Anochi” as a concept. That is part of what raises the questions for Rabbi Levi Yitzchak to explore – Why use acronyms at all? Why not explain what is meant? Why use an acronym for Anochi specifically (and not just explain what it means)? Why use different acronyms in the Gemara and in the Yalkut? Why use some forward and some backward? All of these questions underlie his explanation in this letter and, even more, in the longer essay.
- 14 The Yalkut Shimoni is a compilation of an aggadah (midrash) on the books of Tanach. The compiler is frequently cited as R. Shimon of Frankfort, “rosh hadarshanim” (the head of exegetes). The Yalkut on Parshat Yitro (Part 1, p. 172 in Jerusalem edition) provides three acronyms for Anochi. Rabbi Levi Yitzchak’s letter explains the differences between the acronyms in the Gemara and the acronyms

but with some differences. One is “Ana Nafshi Kesavis Yehavis” {which is the same as in the Talmud}, a second one “Yehiva Kesivah Na’ima Amirah” {which is a backwards version of what is in the Talmud}, and a third “Ana Nehoreich, Kelileich, Ye’useich” {“I am your light, your crown, your benefit {when you accept the Ten Commandments}”}¹⁵ which is not used in the Talmud at all}. Surely you see the differences among them.¹⁶

{The significance of acronyms}

It is possible to learn the sources of these ideas from the following: Acronyms that are “forward” are from the *kav*¹⁷ on the right side that is associated with *Chesed/kindness*¹⁸ and the “backward” acronyms (since all backward movement is from the aspect of judgment/severity) are from the kav on the left, or Gevuros. And from the perspective of the middle kav, that inclines more toward the right than the left (because Yaakov inclined more toward Avraham than to Yitzchak as is known¹⁹), this kav is also represented by a “forward” acronym.

used by the Yalkut. See the longer explanation by Rabbi Levi Yitzchak at Likutei Levi Yitzchak, Volume 3, pp. 51-57.

15 It seems to be based on Midrash Tanchuma Parshat Yisro (Buber edition) (#15): “Rabbi Brechyoh said: Ana Nehoreich, Kelileich, Ye’useich (I am your light, your crown, your benefit). When? When you will accept the Ten Commandments”.

16 Appendix A includes a chart that shows the different acronyms and then raises the questions about the differences among them.

17 A “kav” refers to a ray of “light” from Ein Sof (G-d’s Essence) which contains the ingredients for worlds below. As a kav descends, light is more concealed and continues to fill the worlds below.

18 See Appendix A.

19 This idea is based on the verse in Parshat Vayetze (Bereishit 28:13) where G-d called out to Yaakov as the G-d of “Avraham your father”

This idea {forward, backward, forward and integrating all three} is also seen in the 72-letter name of G-d that is derived from three Pesukim (verses) {in Shemot 14:19-21} known as וַיַּעֲשֵׂה וַיִּבְאֶר וַיַּט which are forward, backward and forward {and then integrated to form 72 three-letter names of G-d}.²⁰ In all events, the middle kav incorporates Gevuros (severity or strength) as well. It is also correct to say that it includes within it the backward acronym attribute. (And it is seen in the aleph-bet of שָׁתְבָא/atbash, etc.,²¹ where the letters תְּשִׁירָת/tashrak (spelling the alphabet backwards from the last letter ה), etc., go in a backward direction.²² In all events, we can see that the right is greater than the left, because atbash begins with נ (coming from the right side) and then ה (coming from the left side) and not in reverse as in בְּשָׁחָר/tashb, etc.²³

Now, the root of these three kavim is from Kesser, which includes the three “heads” – Galgalta, Avira u'Kruma, and Chochma Stimaah.²⁴ This is also true of Anochi which hints at and the G-d of Yitzchak, without a mention of Yitzchak as Yaakov's father.

- 20 See Appendix B for a further explanation of the 72-letter name.
- 21 The פְּשָׁתְבָא/atbash system is a type of substitution code where the letters of the Hebrew alphabet are reversed and substituted. That is: the first letter נ, is substituted for the last letter ה; the second letter ב, is substituted for the second to last letter ו; and so on.
- 22 In other words, when using “atbash,” the structure is that the letters progress normally from right to left (נ, ב, ו, etc.) and are then combined with the letters from the end of the alphabet backwards from left to right (ה, ו, ג, etc.).
- 23 In atbash the נ (from the right side of the alphabet) comes before ה (the last letter on the left side of the alphabet); the “code” doesn’t start with ה first (from the left side/Gevuros) and then נ (from the right side/Chesed).
- 24 Kesser is the highest root source of the ten sefiros; Chesed, Gevura, Tiferes (and even Da'as) of Atik Yomin (G-d’s pleasure, the Pnimius Kesser and as is known there are three acronyms {associated with Anochi as explained above}. The first forward acronym “Ana Nafshi Kesavis Yehavis,” is from Galgalta which is sourced in Chesed {of Atik}. The second acronym that is in a forward orientation “Amirah Na’ima Kesivah Yehiva,” is from Avira and Kruma, which is the source of the middle kav {Da’as and Tiferes of Atik}²⁵. The one backwards acronym, is from Chochma Stimaah which is sourced in Gevuros {of Atik}.

{Taking it to an even higher level in Atik}

This is when one considers the two heads on these words which are Galgalta and Chochma Stimaah,²⁶ these are the body for the third (Avira and Kruma) as is written in Eitz Chaim, Sha’ar Arich Anpin, perek 3. Here, however, we consider them as just two heads. (Because Avira is diminished or subsumed within Galgalta {when compared to Galgalta}, and Galgalta is diminished or subsumed when compared to Chochma Stimaah,²⁷). And there is an even higher head and that would of Kesser) is vested in the three “heads” of Arich Anpin (G-d’s will, the Chitzonius of Kesser), which are: Galgalta (the skull), Avira and Kruma (the membrane between the skull and the brain), and Chochma Stimaah (the “hidden” Chochma or the “brain”).

- 25 Chesed of Atik is vested in Galgalta, Gevura of Atik is vested in Chochma Stimaah, Tiferes of Atik is vested in Kruma, and Da’as of Atik is vested in Avira (see Likutei Levi Yitzchak, Volume 3, p. 52)
- 26 In other words, Chesed and Gevura are the two essential “heads.” Tiferes, being a mixture of Chesed and Gevura (the other two heads) means the other two become the “body” for Tiferes.
- 27 The point here is that when one reduces the three attributes (kindness, severity/judgment, and mercy) to their essential components, one only needs to consider kindness (Chesed) and severity/judgment (Gevuros). Then, if one further reduces them to their essence and source, severity/judgment (Gevuros/Chochma Stimaah) is the key because judgment is essentially for good. By be Radla,²⁸ the first 3 sefiros of Atik. {Now, Rabbi Levi Yitzchak refers to the acronyms used in Yalkut.} And the acronym of “Ana Nafshi, etc.” which is in a forward order is from Galgalta. The backwards acronym, “Yehiva Kasiva Ne’ima Amirah” is from the upper level of Chochma Stimaah which is Avira. And contrast, in another context, Tanya suggests that Chesed predominates over Gevura. Tanya, Igeret HaKodesh, chapter 12. “Now, it is well known that Israelites are by their very nature compassionate and performers of kindness. This is so because their souls issued from His blessed attributes in which Chesed prevails over the attribute of din, Gevura, and tzimtzum, and as it is written: ‘His Chesed prevails over those who fear Him,’ (Ps. 103:11).” This alludes to a view that the Divine attribute of Chesed prevails over the Divine attribute of Gevura. By contrast, Rabbi Levi Yitzchak is positing that Tiferes is diminished when compared to Chesed; but we also see Chesed diminished when compared to Gevura. Look in Rabbi Levi Yitzchak’s longer explanation (Likutei Levi Yitzchak, Volume 3, pp. 51-57) for this idea. Also, the gematria (numerological equivalent) for Gevura is 216 which is 3 times 72 (gematria of Chesed is 72). Each of G-d’s 72 hidden names possesses 3 letters (see Appendix B), in all that is also 216 letters (72 times 3) which corresponds to Gevura.

28 Radla is an acronym for reisha d’lo ityada (“the head that cannot be known”). In Kabbalah, this refers to the deepest aspect of G-d’s Essence which is entirely unknowable; unknowable because it is a level of “Essence” that transcends intellect or knowledge entirely. It is unknowable because it simply cannot be known – it is beyond our capacity. Radla includes the three higher sefiros of Kesser, Chochma, and Bina of Atik Yomin. The other seven sefiros of Atik Yomin are contained within Arich Anpin. Because the higher sefiros are not contained within any other level, they are “revealed.” It is not a type of revelation that allows for perception or consciousness of revelation; but it is just not concealed within any other level or reality. Radla is the source or origin of the purest or most essential faith in G-d.

it is fair to say this also as to the backward acronym, because the source of the middle kav includes also Gevuros {which is the left kav}; even on behalf of Da'as of Atik that is vested there it is also fair to say that it includes Gevura, because Da'as includes Chesed and Gevura. See Ramaz, Parshat Korach. And the third acronym that is forward, “Ana Nehoreich, Kelileich, Ye’useich” (“I am your light, your crown, your benefit”), is from Radla, also Kesser, Chochma, and Bina of Atik, and corresponding to it are the three specific words Nehoreich {associated with Chochma}, Kelileich {associated with Kesser}, Ye’useich {associated with Bina}.²⁹

And now it is understood that the Gemara speaks just of Anochi – the drawing down of Kesser from Arich Anpin {which is lower than Atik}, from the three attributes of Galgalta, Avira and Chochma Stimaah; and, therefore, it does not mention the acronym of Ana Nehoreich, etc. The Yalkut, by comparison, speaks also about a drawing down that is from Atik from all the three heads and, therefore, the Yalkut mentions this acronym (Ana Nehorich, etc.) and the Yalkut does not mention the acronym of “Yehiva Kesivah Ne’emanin Amareha,” because it is enough to mention the backward acronym of “Yehiva Kesivah Na’ima Amirah.³⁰”

And perhaps one could also learn this from the words “עַם קָדוֹשׁ” {a “holy nation”}. עַם {ג (3), י (6) and ו (10)} has the gematria of 19 which hints at Radla the “ban” of Atik, which has 19 attributes as is written in {Eitz Chaim} Sha'ar Atik, perek 1,³¹ and שׁוֹק hints at the “mah” of Atik, look there and understand).

{Holiness and a wedding}

... that we should be holy through the body and soul of Torah, which represent the revealed and hidden qualities of Torah, with both our bodies and our souls. And all our deeds and ways should be merely for the sake of heaven, and the holiness should be both by the man and by the woman, which is {what is meant when we state that “on his wedding date”³² (Shir Ha'Shirim, ibid) refers to} Matan Torah³³ (And the source is from the highest levels of Ban and Mah, as stated above in the explanation of Goy Kadosh).

This is why the binding of a man and woman together is called Kiddushin. So it {i.e., your wedding} should be by you speedily in actuality, with an everlasting Jewish home (תְּעִירָה which hints at the crowns that bore witness for us at Matan Torah.³⁴ See the ³¹ Because Atik selected from the name “ban” as follows: the first 5 levels of Kesser of “ban”, the first 3 levels of Chochma of “ban”, the first 4 levels of Bina of “ban”, and the 7 crowns of each of the lower 7 levels of “ban"; $5+3+4+7 = 19$.

³² Shir Ha-Shirim, 3:11.

³³ Mishnah Taanis, end of chapter 4 (G-d’s giving of the Torah to the Jewish people is analogized to a wedding between G-d and the Jewish people).

³⁴ The Talmud at explains that at the time B'nai Yisrael were at Mt. Sinai 600,000 ministering angels came to each Jew and tied two crowns to each person; one corresponding to “we will do” and one corresponding to “we will listen.” (Shabbat 88a) These crowns are a metaphor for kingship and priesthood as G-d alluded to when saying (Shemot 19:6) “And you shall be for to me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation.” See Maharasha. When B'nai Yisrael sinned at the Golden Calf, the Torah states that B'nai Yisrael were stripped of their “jewelry from Horeb,” which allude to these same crowns. See Shemot 33:6 and Rashi on this verse.

Likkutei Torah in the explanation for Eileh Pikudei/“אלה פקוד”³⁵). With the joy and gladness of heart of all those that love you and like you, and among them also (see Eitz Chaim: Sha'ar Arich Anpin chapter 13; Sha'ar Hazivugim end of chapter 2) I, your father; who loves you with all my heart and soul, and desires that you should have true goodness forever.

ANOCHI ACRONYMS IN GEMARA AND YALKUT

Gemara

3. Yehiva Kesivah Ne'emanin Amareha ("It was given in writing and its statements are true") יהיבא כתיבה נעימא אמריה	2. Amirah Na'ima Kesivah Yehiva ("A pleasant saying was written and given") אמירא נעימה כתיבה יהיבא	1. Ana Nafshi Kesavis Yehavis ("I myself wrote [the Torah] and gave it") אנא נפשי כתביית יהבית

Yalkut

3. Yehiva Kesivah Na'ima Amirah ("Given and written was a pleasant saying") יהיבא כתיבה נעימה אמריה	2. Ana Nehoreich, Kelileich, Ye'useich ("I am your light, your crown, your benefit [when you accept the Ten Commandments]") אנא נהורך כלילך יאוחך	1. Ana Nafshi Kesavis Yehavis ("I myself wrote [the Torah] and gave it") אנא נפשי כתביית יהבית
--	--	---

The Gemara and the Yalkut each use three acronyms -- #1 and #2 are “forward” acronyms (aleph, nun, chof, yud) and one (#3) is a “backward” acronym (yud, chof, nun, aleph).

For more information, see Rabbi Levi Yitzchak’s longer explanation (Likutei Levi Yitzchak, Volume 3, pp. 51-57) which addresses several issues, including:

1. Why does the Gemara not mention the Yalkut acronym Ana Nehoreich, etc.? And why does the Yalkut not mention Yehiva Kesivah Ne'emanin Amareha (from the Gemara)?
2. Why does the Gemara use the acronym Amirah Na'ima Kesivah Yehiva as a forward acronym whereas the Yalkut uses it as a backward acronym?
3. Why do the Gemara and Yalkut express their thoughts in the form of acronyms and not through a text-based explanation?
4. Why do the Gemara and Yalkut express the thoughts specifically using acronyms for Anochi?

APPENDIX B

THE "72-LETTER NAME"

In the Erev Shavuot letter, Rabbi Levi Yitzchak refers to the 72-letter name of G-d. To clarify, there are two different possible references to the “72-letter” name of G-d. One understanding is to consider the numerological significance of how to “count” the name known as “Havayah” (the yud (י) and hei (ה) and vov (ו) and hei (ה)). Depending on how these letters are spelled out, they correspond to different numerical equivalent names of G-d. For example, the name of G-d that corresponds to 72 (הָיָה) is determined by using the numeric equivalents of each letter being spelled out as follows:

$$(15) \text{ ה} + (22) \text{ י} + (15) \text{ ו} + (20) \text{ ה}$$

Lurianic Kabbalah uses this concept as the “72” name of G-d as opposed to the 72-letter name of G-d described below and as used by Rabbi Levi Yitzchak.

The 72-letter name referred to by Rabbi Levi Yitzchak is constructed by combining three verses from Shemot 14:19-21. The three verses are:

יש ויטע מלך האלקיים סחלה לפניה מלחמה ישראל וילך מאחריהם ויטע עמוד השער מפנייהם
ובצמלה מאחוריהם;

כ ובבא בini | מלחמה מצרים ובין מלחמה ישראל ויהי קשון ומחשך והוא אותה לילה ולא זכרה זה אל
זה קלטנייה;

כא ויט משא אתחזר עליהם וילך י-ה - ה | אותהם ברוח קדרים עזה כלתללה ושם אחד
תמים לתורה ויבקשו תפים;

Each of these verses contains 72 letters. These are the letters of the 72-letter name that explains the unusual fact that three verses in a row are made up of 72 letters (as the Kabbalists pointed out). By combining the verses in the manner illustrated in the box below, 72 different three-letter combinations are created. The process consists of spelling the first and third verses in a forward direction and the second verse in a backwards direction.

TABLE ILLUSTRATING THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE 72-LETTER NAME OF G-D

Using the first letter of the words (in larger font) and going from right to left beginning with the box on the upper right corner of the table, it spells the verse beginning with: יישע
Using the third letter of the words (in larger font) and going from right to left beginning with the box on the upper right corner of the table, it spells the verse beginning with: יישע

UNLOCKING THE CODE

The Letters of Rabbi Levi Yitzchak Schneerson

Translations with Practical Lessons

Rabbi Levi Yitzchak Schneerson was the father and teacher of Rabbi Menachem M. Schneerson, the seventh Lubavitcher Rebbe. For about 25 years, the Rebbe lived, for the most part, in his parents' home where the Rebbe and his father developed a close personal bond. The Rebbe and his father last saw each other in the fall of 1927 (29 Tishrei 5688) and would never see each other again in the physical world. During 1928, and pending the Rebbe's wedding date, Rabbi Levi Yitzchak wrote a series of letters to his son all related to the Rebbe's upcoming wedding. Four of the letters were written on the eve of Passover, Shavuot, Rosh Hashanah, and Sukkot. In each letter, Rabbi Levi Yitzchak tied the holiday to his son's upcoming wedding through explaining the Kabbalistic significance of each holiday and how it relates to different aspects of marriage. These letters show not just Torah insights but also very personal insights into the close connection between Rabbi Levi Yitzchak (the then 50-year old father) and the Rebbe (his then 26-year old son).

"It is my obligation and great zechus to suggest, request, etc., that everyone study from {my father's} teachings..." From a letter of the Rebbe, Motzei Tisha B'Av 5744 (1984).

In this publication, Shlomo M. Hamburger translates and analyzes these four letters. In addition, Mr. Hamburger includes personal essays explaining some practical lessons to learn from these letters.
